David Myers joins CES Energy

CES Energy is pleased to announce the appointment of David Myers as Commercial Director. David will be based in the Dublin office but will play a pivotal role in the Irish, United Kingdom and Saudi Arabian operations.

David is a chartered surveyor with in excess of 20 years experience in the construction & property industries. Prior to joining CES Energy, David was Commercial Director for the P Elliott Group for a 3 year period where he had particular responsibility for its pre contract bid/project development work and in particular its Public Private Partnership work. Prior to that David worked with Gardiner & Theobald LLP for 17 years in London and Dublin and was one of the founding Directors of its Irish operation in 1999 where he was the Director responsible for the delivery of its cost management services.

'I'm is delighted to announce that David has joined the team, we are entering a period of extended growth for the company and David's experience, perception, structure and judgment will be a great asset during these exciting years ahead ' says Brendan Marren, Director Sales and Marketing.
